

UNSHAKABLE · A SPEAKLIFE 7-DAY PLAN

For the joy that went quiet

Seven declarations. Seven mornings.
Sixty seconds each.

Out loud. That part is the method.

YOUR STORM

The joy has gone quiet.

May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Romans 15:13

That verse was written for this. It has probably been true about you for years without ever making the trip from the page into your mouth.

The next six pages are how it makes that trip.

THE TURN

Jesus never prayed about a storm.

THE PROOF

He spoke to three things nobody speaks to.

The storm

“Quiet! Be still!” and the wind stopped.

Mark 4:39

The sickness

“Be clean.” and the leprosy left.

Matthew 8:3

The grave

“Lazarus, come out!” and a dead man walked.

John 11:43

Not one of those was a request.

THE HINGE

Then He said
we do the same.

“Truly I tell you, if anyone says to this mountain, ‘Go, throw yourself into the sea,’ and does not doubt in their heart but believes that what they say will happen, it will be done for them. Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours.”

Mark 11:23-24

Says. Not thinks about. Not reads. Says.

Speaking is not our idea. It is the part He named.

THE CRAFT

What makes a declaration work

First person

You are the one speaking. Not a quote about somebody else.

Present tense

Faith says it done. Not one day. Not please. Now.

One sentence

The mouth cannot carry a paragraph with conviction.

Out loud

Faith comes by hearing. Your ears are the delivery.

That is the whole craft.
Everything else is decoration.

THE ONE RULE THAT CHANGES EVERYTHING

Never say the low thing over yourself

A declaration does not argue with the problem. It does not name it, rebuke it, or ask it to settle down. It says the higher thing that makes the problem irrelevant.

NOT THIS

“Worry, calm down. I am trying not to be anxious.”

THIS

“I have the mind of Christ. It is clear, sound, and at rest.”

One of those keeps the problem in the room. The other changes the subject to something truer.

YOUR SEVEN DECLARATIONS

One a morning. Out loud.

1 You fill me with joy and peace, and I overflow with hope.

Romans 15:13

2 Your mercies meet me brand new every morning, and I rise into a clean start today.

Lamentations 3:22-23

3 Your joy is my strength, and that well never once runs dry.

Nehemiah 8:10

4 You crown me with beauty instead of ashes and clothe me in the oil of joy.

Isaiah 61:3

5 You show me the path of life, and Your presence fills me with joy.

Psalms 16:11

6 My comeback is already moving, and You restore me strong, firm, and steadfast.

1 Peter 5:10

7 Joy is my clothing now, and dancing is back in my feet.

Psalms 30:11

HOW TO RUN IT

Seven mornings.

One declaration. Out loud. Before you touch your phone.

Day one is the first line. Day seven is the last. If you miss a morning, say it in the car. The point is not a perfect week. The point is that your voice gets there before everything else does.

You are not trying to feel unshakable.

You are becoming it.

“Those who receive God's abundant provision of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man, Jesus Christ.”

Romans 5:17

WHERE THIS RUNS EVERY DAY

- Your exact storm, not a category.

Say what you are facing in your own words and it finds the Scripture written for it.

- Sixty seconds, before the day starts.

Ready the moment you open your eyes.

- Spoken over you while your hands are busy.

For the commute, the gym, the sleepless night.

- Thirty days, not one good day.

A plan that carries you past the week your feelings quit.
